THE boss is back, football is back and so is the excitement in Milton Keynes.

Three months is a long time in the beautiful game and plenty has changed at MK Dons.

A switch of manager has seen Paul Ince return to the helm to drive this season's promotion push.

Ince was the man who brought the League Two title and Johnstone's Paint Trophy to the Dons in 2007/08, his successful style of attractive football will make the Dons the team to watch this year.

But the Dons have tough competition if they want to finish in the top two automatic promotion spots, with League One hosting some big names this term.

Southampton, Charlton and Norwich are all looking for a quick return to the Championship while Millwall and Leeds are expected to be challenging at the top end.

Dons fans can look forward to another thrilling season at stadiummk, and it all starts on Saturday.

Come on you Dons!

Good luck MKDONS!

Now you could pay to park at workplace

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE

jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

COUNCILLORS are considering a scheme which would see people having to pay to park at work.

A 'workplace parking levy' could affect 4,000 workplace spaces in the city.

Under the scheme, any firm with 11 or more staff parking spaces will be charged £250 a year for each, a cost which they would be free to pass onto their staff.

Milton Keynes Council officers are investigating bringing the scheme to the city after it was recommended by the Citizens' Advisory Group on Transport (CAGoT).

Last week the Department for Transport announced that Nottingham will be the first council to see the charge for workplace parking, and that other councils could follow. The Government says the scheme will reduce congestion and pollution, but it has received criticism from the AA for being a tax on working.

Cabinet member for transport, Cllr Alan Mallyon, said: "It came as a recommendation from CAGoT. As a result of that, officers are doing an investigation. It would have to be approved by the council and then be widely consulted on, so it wouldn't be until at least 2011 before it moved forward."

In Nottingham, the money raised will go towards a tram system, whereas Cllr Mallyon envisages the revenue would be spent on 'sustainable transport'.

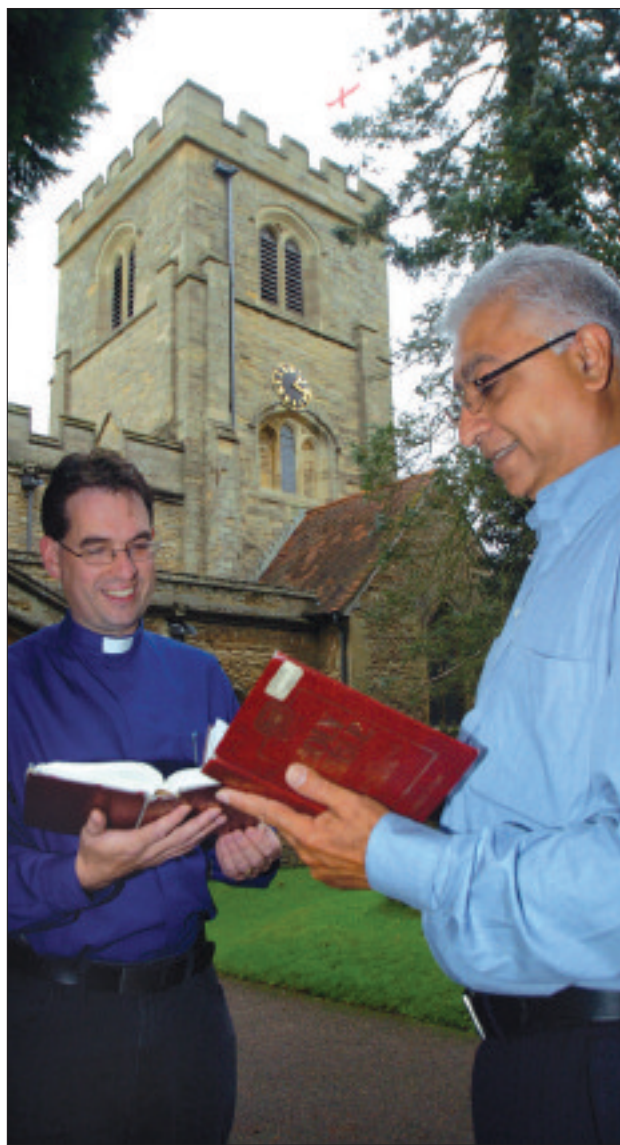

Rita Spada, chief executive of the Milton Keynes

Chamber of Commerce said: "This is another stealth tax on businesses and their employees."

"In this current economic climate where the rate of unemployment in Milton Keynes has been significant it is extremely disappointing that increased costs and a further disincentive to employment is being considered."

"Milton Keynes is not just competing in a UK or regional market for business investment, this is a global market and to retain their competitiveness all business are seriously reviewing cost effective relocations internationally."

"In order for Milton Keynes to retain its reputation as a great investment it must demonstrate its ambition, take the lead and innovate."

Snappers log all of city's redways

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE

jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

A GROUP of photographers is documenting every stretch of the city's redways for a unique exhibition.

Part art, part archive, the project is thought to be the first time the 250km of red routes have been captured.

With just Stony Stratford and Wolverton left to do, Colin Barron and fellow photographers Georgy Holden and Alun Morgan are preparing to display their work at the central library in February.

From apple trees to graffiti, Mr Barron has snapped more than 800 sights over the past year.

The retired teacher from Fenny Stratford was assigned a quarter of the routes, including Shelshall, Emerson Valley, Westcroft as well as the villages in the north. His favourite section was the old houses of Linford and Willen Lake.

He said: "We very much wanted to celebrate the redways. I moved here five years ago, and, having lived all over England and Wales, I've never seen a system like it."

"I was over at Emerson Valley and I found a notice pinned up about a lost cat, and a piece of paper carefully laid on the floor with stones holding it down saying 'text this number'. Then there were three apple trees in Snelshall which were untouched. Little things like that have caught my eye."

"The beauty of the redways is that they're near both landscape and housing estates."

By February, 50 of the best photos will be mounted and framed, while the rest will be put into slide shows for the public to see.

Meanwhile, the group is also looking for people to add their own snaps and comments about the redways to a Flickr website.

Arson suspected after blaze destroys roof of new home

A BLAZE that tore through the roof of a newly-built house is being treated as suspicious.

Police have launched an investigation after fire severely damaged a detached property at The Green, Woughton on the Green on Sunday night (August 2).

The house was in the process of being built and was very near completion. It was unoccupied at the time and its owners were out of the country.

At its peak thirty fire fighters fought the blaze.

Peter Maxey, the son of the family who own the house, told MK NEWS: "This news has sent shockwaves throughout the family and we are all devastated."

"We have been looking forward for the past five years to moving into the house and for it to burn down so near to completion is very hard to comprehend."

"However, we would like to thank Milton Keynes Fire Crew for the wonderful job they did in extinguishing the fire."

DC Philip Baines, investigating said: "At this stage the fire is being treated as suspicious."

"We will be carrying out an

Gutted: The detached property at The Green, Woughton on the Green extensive forensic investigation along with Bucks Fire and Rescue to determine the cause of the fire.

"This is a large, valuable, property which backs on to Peartree Bridge."

"We would like to speak to anyone who was in the area shortly before midnight last night who may have seen people acting suspiciously near the house."

Three fire crews attended with a turntable ladder and used the nearby canal for a water supply.

Watch manager Kevin Bird, from Broughton Fire Station, said: "When we arrived there was a well-developed fire in the ground and first floors."

"Firefighters worked long and hard into the night but were unable to prevent it from spreading to the roof and causing severe damage."

Those with information can contact police on 0845 8 505 505 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Park says hello Jambo

WOBURN Safari Park is celebrating the birth of its first Rothschild giraffe to be born this year.

The birth signals major success for the park's breeding programme of the most endangered of the nine subspecies of giraffe.

Born on Friday, July 24, the new male giraffe has been named Jambo which means 'hello' in Swahili, the national language of Kenya and Uganda where this subspecies originates from.

His eleven-year-old mum, Savannah, is one of Woburn's most experienced, having given birth to four calves since her arrival at the safari park from Edinburgh Zoo in 2003. There are now nine Rothschild Giraffe at Woburn.

Woburn's head of animal management and conservation Dr Jake Veasey, who is an experienced giraffe biologist having worked with them in the wild in Zimbabwe, said: "We're delighted at the safe arrival of another giraffe here at Woburn Safari Park. It's testament to the changes we have made in managing the lives of these rare animals and a great boost to the survival of this critically endangered subspecies."

Family tribute to death crash OAP

BY LAURA HANNAM

laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

THE family of a pensioner who died after being hit by a reversing car have paid tribute to him.

Eighty-seven-year-old Redvers Burt had stepped out of his front door to walk his dog Charlie when he was hit by a blue Volvo V40 as it backed out of a neighbouring driveway in Vicarage Road, Fenny Stratford.

An inquest, opened yesterday, heard he was knocked to the ground at around 9.25am on Saturday, July 18 and suffered head injuries.

Neighbours came to his aid and called an ambulance, but Mr Burt died in hospital on Monday, July 27, nine days after the crash.

Mr Burt was born in Long Sutton in Somerset and lived in the village all his life before moving to Milton Keynes in 2005 with his

Redvers Burt was hit by a car as it backed out of a neighbouring driveway second wife Monica, who he married in 1993.

On the day of the crash he was due to travel down to Somerset.

A tribute released on behalf of his family by Thames Valley Police said: "Redvers was a plain speaking countryman. He spent his early working life working with local farmers and builders and served in the Home Guard during the Second World War.

"He retired in 1987 having spent 26 years working for South West Electricity Board as a linesman.

"Even in retirement Redvers was an extremely active person who was a regular volunteer at the Rural Life Museum where he worked on various exhibits as well as donating historical agricultural artefacts that he had collected for the museum to display.

"Redvers will be remembered for his no nonsense approach to life, his love of the countryside, his dry sense of humour and his ability to set his hand to any task.

"He was a hardworking, much loved and unique individual and will be sadly missed.

"He leaves behind a wife, two step daughters, six grandchildren, six great grandchildren and his beloved dog, Charlie."

The inquest was adjourned until January to await the results of a postmortem.

Anyone with any information about the incident should contact PC Greene on 08458 505505 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555111.

Police snouts pick up thousands

THE city's police service paid out £179,516 to informants last year to help solve cases, new figures have revealed.

Thames Valley Police has been rated the ninth highest spender in the UK for its total of payments to informants in 2008/09.

Its spending increased by £30,156 in a year from 2007 and has risen by more than 47 per cent since 2004, when it paid out £84,697.

Since 2005 a total of £718,496 has been spent.

Like most forces, Thames Valley refused to give specific details about how the money was used to protect informants' identities.

Assistant chief constable Nick Gargan said the figure has risen as the service has mounted a determined effort against serious and organised crime.

He claimed information from informants had helped disrupt 43 organised crime groups in the past year.

He said: "The idea that police and other organisations would pay people for information goes back a very long time indeed.

"It is a very useful tool which is part of a wider tool kit we use to be able to achieve results including a wide range of overt and covert tactics. We spend only one twentieth of one per cent of our overall budget on payments to informants, a very small amount.

He added: "We do understand the public anxiety surrounding this issue because of the many hundreds of people who supply information to the police some will be involved in crime or have been in the past.

"This is why the checks and balances in place and the legal and regulatory frameworks are very strict and supervised by senior officers with special training."

UK forces paid more than £6million to informants last year.

Letters to The Editor, MK NEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, Milton Keynes MK15 0DU | letters@mk-news.co.uk

Time for Scouts to dib dib dib in for hospice

SIR – As a regular visitor to Newport Pagnell I often read your paper and was saddened to see how the donations of clothing have dried up due to the recession.
Is this because people find it difficult to deliver it to the warehouse and the charity shops?

Is there some way that if clothing and other articles that people wish to donate could be collected?

Wouldn't it be nice if someone organised one day a month to collect these articles for the warehouse and charity shops?

As a boy (I'm 77) and a boy scout, we used to collect old news print and sell it, what is wrong with getting the scouts and guides involved in this very important exercise? I'm sure they would love to do it.

While I'm at it, why don't I take a lead in an appeal to everyone in the Milton Keynes area to look in their wardrobes and cupboards and send the clothes you don't need to the warehouse.

Also what about those pieces of furniture that are getting in your way? We are all getting older and we all have things we don't really need.

Just think about it, we need the hospice, it is there to help us, so let us help it.

By the way I will start the ball rolling with a small donation of my own. I wish it could be more but our pensions don't leave us much to spare.

John Wallis
Wimblington, March, Cambs

Follow the redway rules

SIR – With reference to numerous redway incidents I would like to point out that according to the redway guide compiled by MK Council and Cycle MK, available from Discover MK, it clearly states that the redways are for use by both pedestrians and cyclists.

Pedestrians should keep to the right, as you would on a road, and not walk more than two abreast, keeping children under control.

Cyclists therefore should cycle on the left, as on a road, to be able to see oncoming pedestrians and allowing the cyclist to overtake safely.

Cyclists should use lights and wear reflective clothing and also have a bell fitted on their cycle.

Dogs should not foul the redway and should be kept on a short lead, not being allowed to run free.

It is down to the council to provide adequate signage to back up its rules printed in the leaflet.

Also to ensure the redways are not overgrown and do not have glass smashed across them.

Any problems on the redways should be reported to the cycling officer on MK 691691 or visit

Hospital Walk-In Centre still open for business

SIR – I am writing in response to Michelle Bowman's letter (MK News 22/7).

I would like to reassure local people that the Walk-In Centre, situated on the Hospital campus, remains open to treat people with minor injuries from 7am until 10pm, seven-days-a-week.

If you or a family member needs non-urgent medical attention out-of-hours, you should call your GP practice; it will have the number of the out-of-hours service on its answering machine.

Please do not go to Accident and Emergency unless it is a genuine emergency.

Ms Bowman is correct that, for most people, swine flu is an unpleasant but mild virus. People who think they have swine flu symptoms should call the National Flu Pandemic Service on 0800 1 513 000.

However, people like Ms Bowman with long-term medical conditions should keep a careful eye on their health and contact their GP immediately so appropriate medical support can be offered to minimise the risk of complications.

Please don't forget that anyone with swine flu symptoms should not go to their GP practice – please speak to them on the telephone.

If antiviral medication is needed, please do not collect it yourself, stay at home recovering and send your 'flu friend' to get it for you.

Car parking chaos

SIR – I wonder if other people have noticed the huge rise in the number of cars littering our roads.

Try driving through any village or estate and the problem confronts you. All that stopping and starting is not only adding wear and tear to our cars and pollution to the environment but is costing the economy money in wasted time – lots of it.

Last year when we had snow it was difficult to leave our estate because of parked cars.

Once you got out onto the main road it was not difficult to get to work but leaving the estate was a problem.

This year I have noticed that it is difficult to negotiate your way out even in the summer. Cars are abandoned with impunity at corners of road junctions.

Perhaps I could fire a timely warning shot and appeal to drivers of cars who regularly park on the road to be considerate and, if at all possible, park off the road.

This will certainly reduce accidents and allow people to get to work.

I should also like to ask Milton Keynes Council, who through its agents is eager to penalise drivers who overstay in parking bays and cause no obstruction, if they see this as a problem that needs to be tackled and what they intend to do about it.

Meet the beaks

SIR – Dozens of people have so far taken the opportunity to attend an open morning at MK Magistrates' Court in the company of an experienced magistrate where they saw the courts operating.

We have found that these sessions are interesting to people, whether or not they are contemplating applying to become magistrates themselves.

The date of the final open morning for this year – Wednesday, August 12 – is fast approaching.

Each session lasts from 9.45am until 1pm.

Only a few places remain, and must be booked in advance on a special telephone line, 07947 426619, or e-mail

Music4you a waste

SIR – I would just like to congratulate Milton Keynes on another nonsense waist of money and time.

Music4you – what's that all about?

All I saw was a poor effort to give something back to the community.

One stage with a fantastic sound system as well as lights, which I am sure were not cheap, four to five food and beverage stalls, one skate ramp, a ridiculous beach setting with a few deckchairs, and a basketball hoop.

Where did the money go? Where was the promotion?

I feel Milton Keynes council really and truly need to re-evaluate its decisions.

I would really like to see the breakdown for this event as far as costs go as I feel money has been wasted here and am sure it could have been used more wisely and in a way the community could benefit.

Another Milton Keynes flop! How many do we have to have before it is done properly?

Please stop wasting money.

One more thing, I love the way nobody noticed or even thought of putting up some new flags on the poles – the Milton Keynes one was so weathered and beaten, it made me wonder if the parties involved in this event are in the same state – weathered and tattered at the edges.

Come on MK sort it out!

Paper trail

SIR – Yes, Jonathan Forte, from a letter last week; newspapers and magazines are recyclable, as they are made from paper (wood).

However it would be wrong to put them in bulk with the garden waste.

Firstly, a newspaper or a magazine takes longer to decompose than the odd sheet of paper, such as that lining the grey caddy.

Magazines, being glossy paper, take even longer to decompose anyway.

Secondly the paper would be far better used sent to a paper recycling mill.

The machines there are designed to recycle paper, which can then be used to make new newspapers, magazines or even things like toilet paper.

This then prevents the destruction of millions of acres of virgin forest.

Phillip Watling

Tesco drop – for now

SIR – I was delighted to read on your front page last week that Tesco is to drop its plans for a Newport store.

I believe that the store would have had an adverse affect on the town centre and I must congratulate the people of Newport for the way that they have made themselves heard on this subject.

However, be aware that Tesco have already said they are looking at the plans again.

Basketball club to play in shop mall

MIDDLETON Hall will be transformed into a 2,000-seater basketball stadium to host MK Lions from next year.

The venue at thecentre:mk has been announced as a temporary home for the city's basketball team.

It had been planned for the Lions to move into arenamk, neighbouring stadiummk, at the start of their new season which starts in September.

However, the arena has been hit by delays blamed on the current economic climate, and with the Lions' current home Bletchley Leisure Centre set to be levelled for redevelopment in December, the team has been forced into an alternative venue.

From January 2010 the Lions will play their remaining ten British Basketball League matches in the shopping centre.

Lions chief executive and head coach, Vince Macaulay, has spent months organising a back-up plan and was delighted to finally confirm the club will remain in Milton Keynes.

There were fears that the Lions would be forced out of the city, and they even looked into buying a warehouse to convert in a bid to stay in MK.

Macaulay told MK NEWS: "The big positive is that we're still here in Milton Keynes."

"I think we all know that in this current economic climate trying to

Vince Macaulay and Robert Goodman at the launch of the news that MK Lions will play in Middleton Hall from January finish the arena is a tough job, as well as all of the other aspects of the stadium that have to be done.

"We trust in the work that Pete and his team are doing to get that ready and it's just good that we've got an alternative home until that time comes."

While a date for the eventual move into arenamk has still not been decided Macaulay hopes the team will be in by summer next year.

He added: "Once I realised it was slipping beyond the start of the season we had to get an alternative. Now we've got an alternative until the end of the season and then we look forward to the arena after that."

thecentre:mk director Robert Goodman was delighted to welcome the team and thinks both parties can enjoy rewards from the move.

He said: "We're really excited that we can work with the Lions to make this happen in Middleton Hall. It's a win win all round. Without doubt this will bring business in to the centre and there will be spin off for our restaurants and our retailers."

"It's a great opportunity for MK Lions to increase their exposure to a new audience."

■ The Lions first match at thecentre:mk will be against Essex Pirates on January, 12.

Bible-reading marathon to raise church roof cash

BY LAURA HANNAM

laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

ALL 773,692 words of the bible are to be read aloud continuously over three days to raise money to save a church roof.

Children, ministers and members of the congregation at St Mary's Church in Shenley Church End will take it in turns to read the bible cover to cover in 15 minute slots from Tuesday, August 11 to Friday, August 14.

The sponsored 'Biblothon' event aims to raise money to help meet a £100,000 bill to make urgent repairs to the church's medieval roof.

Fifty adults are to take part and around 20 children, some from Christ the Sower primary school.

Mike Khan, worship leader and member of the church council, said: "We wanted to do something different and as we are holding it during the summer holidays we can involve lots of children."

"It will be quite a feat."

Reverend Mike Morris, vicar at St Mary's, will start the reading after a special service at 8pm on Tuesday, August 11. The volunteers will be reading the Bible 24 hours a day.

Rev. Morris said: "I think it is a fantastic idea and I'm sure the people doing it will get a lot out of it, because if nothing else there are parts of the bible that do not get read very often."

"The amount and variety of people involved shows that the church is still alive and kicking."

While the event is taking place the church will be open from 6am to 10pm to visitors and well wishers. There will also be a celebration party at 10am on the Saturday morning.

Mr Khan added: "People forget that the church only gets money through the collection. "When people are going through hard times this is when the church starts to get a reduction in donations and is it also when the church is under considerable pressure as people need our counselling and support."

"We need to raise £100,000 over the next five to ten years to repair the roof."

"It has stood for more than 800 years it would be great if we can preserve it for generations to come."

■ To make a donation either visit the church during the Biblothon or send a cheque made out to St Mary's Church and post to St Mary's Biblothon c/o The Partnership Office, 2 Church Hill, Two Mile Ash, Milton Keynes, MK8 8QE.

Tearful TV appeal for missing wife

THE husband of a missing woman has made an emotional appeal for help, two weeks after her disappearance.

Peter Widdowson broke down in tears as he appeared in front of television cameras and spoke of the last time he saw 57-year-old Denise.

Describing the morning of Thursday, July 16, Mr Widdowson said: "I got up and went to the bathroom and Denise was on the computer.

"I went back to bed and that was the last time I saw her.

"When I woke up around 8.30am and came downstairs, the patio door was open, the paper Denise had gone to the shop to buy was on the table and there was a half-empty cup of tea outside on the patio but Denise was nowhere to be seen.

"I miss Denise a great deal and the only way I can get through this is to try and keep busy.

Missing: Denise Widdowson

"All I want to know is where Denise is and if she is ok.

"We have been married 35 years and for her to suddenly not be there anymore is devastating."

Police have searched the area near the couple's home in Giffard

Park, including Willen Lake, where they enjoyed walking together.

A team of police divers have searched the water and volunteers have also helped officers to search parkland and the banks of the lake for Denise, who suffers from depression and anxiety.

DI Dave Dachter said: "At the moment the investigation focuses on Denise and her associates.

"There is no evidence that any other person was involved at all, no evidence that she has been abducted or that anyone has harmed her."

Denise is white, has collar-length brown hair, green eyes and wears glasses. She was last seen wearing a grey hooded top and white T-shirt and jeans.

If you have any information about her whereabouts or if you have seen her since she went missing, call 0845 8 505 505 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

'No star' Oriental Star takeaway closed by food safety officers

A CHINESE takeaway has been closed down after six cases of suspected food poisoning were reported there.

Milton Keynes Council Environmental Health officers closed the Oriental Star in Queensway, Bletchley, when it was reported on Saturday, July 25 that a family of six was suffering from suspected food poisoning.

The takeaway owners agreed with to close the premises until they had carried out cleaning of the premises.

Environmental Health officers then revisited on Thursday and decided to close the premises under until further notice.

The Emergency Prohibition Notice will stay in place until council officers are satisfied the owners have improved hygiene and food preparation standards.

Results from the suspected cases of food poisoning are not expected until later this week

Cllr Mike Galloway, cabinet member for Environment, Planning and Growth said: "We are very pleased that prompt action was taken after the initial report enabling us to take the necessary action to ensure the health and safety of the public."

All food premises are regularly inspected by Environmental Health Staff to check hygiene conditions and premises are awarded a star rating based on their standards from nought to five stars, five being excellent.

Consumers can check the 'Scores On The Doors' rating for their favourite eatery before deciding where to eat or purchase food by looking on MKC website.

Oriental Star was inspected last September and awarded no stars.

New collection point for swine flu drugs

PALS closed as staff move to new Tamiflu dispensary in Bletchley

A COLLECTION point for swine flu medication has been opened after pharmacists were inundated with hundreds of prescriptions.

NHS Milton Keynes opened a main Tamiflu collection point at Bletchley Community Hospital in Whalley Drive, Bletchley on Monday (July 3) where flu friends can collect antiviral medication on behalf of someone with swine flu who has been diagnosed through the National Pandemic Flu Service.

Dr Diane Gray, deputy director of public health, said: "NHS Milton Keynes has opened the antiviral collection point at Bletchley Community Hospital in response to demand from the community and will remain open according to demand.

The antiviral collection point at Bletchley Community Hospital will remain open according to demand

Dr Diane Gray, deputy director of public health

"I would like to remind people with swine flu symptoms that they should not attend the antiviral collection point to collect their antivirals, but send their 'flu friend'."

The health service is asking swine flu fakers not to stock up on antiviral drugs.

Dr Gray added: "The National Flu Pandemic Service has been set up to provide antiviral medication for people with genuine swine flu symptoms.

"Not everyone with flu-like symptoms will require antivirals as there are lots of other viruses that have similar symptoms.

"However, please do contact the National Flu Pandemic Service if you genuinely have flu-like symptoms that you are worried about."

The collection point, which will be open from 9am until 6pm, Monday to Friday, cannot provide any assessment or treatment.

After hours and at weekends, flu friends can collect antivirals from the Walk in Centre on the Hospital Campus.

If you have flu-like symptoms that you think could be swine flu, call the National Pandemic Flu Service on 0800 1 513 100 (0800 1 513 200 text-phone).

If swine flu is diagnosed, you will be given a unique reference number (URN), which you will need to give it to your flu friend to enable them to collect your antivirals.

People with long-term conditions should telephone their GP if they think they have swine flu symptoms.

■ Milton Keynes' Primary Care Trust's Patient Advisory Service (PALS) is temporarily closed for around four weeks as the team's staff are providing assistance to the antiviral collection point.

During this time, people who require information about hospital services should contact 01908 243181 or for queries about Primary Care Trust services, please call 01908 243933.

I lost weight with SureSlim by eating normal food

Kate after

I've been comfort eating since about the age of 11. Over the years my weight increased on a massive scale. I had seen adverts for SureSlim but never did anything about it.

Then I was shopping one day and saw the SureSlim Clinic so decided to go in. At the time I was sceptical as I have tried other diets before and I just didn't think I would be able to do it. The diet was so easy to follow and it was fantastic to be able to eat real food not shakes or powdered meals.

I enjoyed experimenting with my food and actually cooking proper meals again. I was staggered that the weight just seemed to drop off, the eating programme is remarkable and really works. I began to feel full of energy and so positive about myself.

I have now reached my goal weight having lost nearly 6 stone. I have never felt as good about myself as I do now, it is very hard to describe how fantastic I feel. Walking past a shop window recently was a real revelation as I couldn't believe it, I didn't think it was me, I looked slim!

I would recommend this plan to anyone. I really feel that this time my weight will stay off forever, my whole attitude to food has changed. I am so positive about the future and now I am maintaining I know my happiness will continue as will my positive relationship with food.

I can't believe it, I look so slim! Kate

Financial crisis is top of council chief's list

BY LAURA HANNAM

laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

THE new chief executive for Milton Keynes Council is set for the challenge of leading the city through the financial crisis.

David Hill took up the leadership three weeks ago leaving his post as chief executive at Ashford Borough Council in Kent.

He told MK NEWS he believes talk of economic recovery is premature and his main priorities will be gearing the city up to deal with the ongoing effects of the recession and improving management processes within the council to steer it out of financial difficulty.

He said: "There's going to be a challenging financial situation for all public sector bodies over the next few years.

"We need to gear up to make sure we can react to that appropriately and manage our way through it without running into a financial corner which will cause us to cut services or staff.

"The recession has also had an impact on communities and local people and the

New boss: MK Council chief David Hill council needs to work with partner organisations to minimise that impact, to promote more inward investment, more jobs growth, support existing businesses and to work particularly with vulnerable groups in society. That said I think Milton Keynes has got many solid advantages as a place to invest and I'm sure it will emerge from the recession more quickly than many other areas."

He added that he would be working to improve financial management and efficiency to make the 'significant' savings needed to stabilise the council's financial situation.

He said: "There was an overspend at the end of the last financial year and we need to make sure that doesn't happen again and that we, to some extent, recover the position from last year.

"The council has set a savings target for the current year of £7million... this is on a budget of £170million so it is achievable and we can make savings in a number of ways that won't impact on front line services. For the longer term we need to find sustainable ways of doing things more efficiently, providing good quality services at a lower cost so that we have got a stable financial position."

Man jailed for rape of under-age boys

A MAN from Bletchley has been jailed for serious sexual offences involving children.

Peter Leslie Feeley, aged 52, has been given an indeterminate sentence and will serve a minimum of seven years.

He will also be on the sex offenders register for life.

Feeley was sentenced by Judge

Coleman after being found guilty of three rapes, two indecent assaults, two counts of sexual activity towards a child, one of inciting a child to engage in sexual activity and four sexual assaults.

A jury at Huntingdon Crown Court had unanimously found him guilty of all 12 charges on June 17.

The charges refer to crimes committed by Feeley between 2002 and 2007 on two boys, both aged under 16, from Milton Keynes.

DC Tracy Wescombe, investigating, said: "I hope now the victims and their families can start to rebuild their lives knowing Feeley has been locked up and is paying for the appalling crimes he committed."

Leap of faith for charity

A RECRUITMENT consultant is to sky dive from 10,000 feet in aid of a local hospice.

Twenty-six-year-old Joanne Taylor, from Bradville, a consultant at Randstad Staffing Solutions in Silbury Boulevard, Central Milton Keynes will take part in a tandem parachute jump to raise money for Willen Hospice, which provides care for terminally ill people.

Miss Taylor said: "I decided to do it on behalf of Willen Hospice when I heard that my mate's mum recently passed away there... it made me realise that Willen Hospice is an amazing place and the work they do is tremendous and needs to be recognised more."

Waste companies' contract bids

TEN companies have been selected to draw up solutions to reduce the amount of rubbish going to landfill.

Project Reduce, run by by Milton Keynes Council and Northamptonshire County Council, aims to divert waste away from landfill across the two boroughs.

The contractors bidding for a 25-year contract will start discussions with the councils in the next few weeks to outline how they intend to design, build and operate waste treatment and disposal facilities.

The bidding process is likely to take two years and new facilities are expected to be in place by 2013/14.

Archives website launched

A NEW Joint Archives website has been launched by Milton Keynes Council and Buckinghamshire County Council.

In addition, from July 27 to October 15, people will be able to complete an on-line survey giving their views and suggestions on how both councils should plan future archives services.

Milton Keynes Council currently holds its official archive collections at the Centre of Buckinghamshire Studies in Aylesbury, but with both councils having to build new housing as part of the Growth Agenda, in order to ensure archive services keep pace with public demand new ways of delivering provision are needed.

Cabinet member for heritage, Vanessa McPake, said: "Milton Keynes' archives are as much part of our future as our heritage. I am sure people will want to have their say on archive future plans."

The website shows digital examples of some of the archives that are held in both council's collections and links to where the public can find out more about what archives are and what can be found at the centre. Over time more archival images, news and information will be added.

There are also two surveys, one for archive users and one for those who have never used archives before.

To see the new website and take the relevant survey visit

Julia Evans and John Miall outside the new Doubletree Hotel at stadiummk

Brownie points for new stadium hotel

BY SIMONE CORGAN

simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

A NEW hotel with a spectacular view will open in Milton Keynes in early September.

It is Doubletree, part of the Hilton Family, at MK Dons' stadiummk.

Work is currently ongoing at the site but MK NEWS was given a tour around the soon to be four star hotel by interim general manager John Miall, and Julia Evans, director of sales for Doubletree.

On arrival at reception on the ground floor, you book in at the left of the room, where you will also be handed a warm Doubletree brownie, it's the signature welcome. Then you can take one of three lifts up to the next levels. Or you can pop into the sports bar to the right of reception.

Red Dot Bar, as it will be known, will have large screen TVs and a lively atmosphere open to guests and the general public.

The first level is earmarked for conferences, with the ballroom able to host up to 1000 delegates, and it can also be split into three sections by soundproof dividers. A second kitchen will ensure service to tables will be quick, efficient and run smoothly.

The entire floor, where ClubRed members gather for the football, has been painted and the grey heavy doors have been replaced with lighter wooden ones for a brighter look.

When you go up another level you find the lounge bar, a large open room full length glass doors which allow you to look out onto the stadiummk pitch.

The lounge, with natural colours, booths and individual seating, will be open to residents and non-residents. A wooden pathway guides you to the restaurant through doors on the right.

Single chairs will be cream and red leather, while there is also a raised area at the back with sociable circular seating.

On a match day the restaurant will be able to serve 140 people, corporate guest will be dinned in a satellite restaurant with the same menus.

Guests can enjoy alfresco dinning, although to comply with football regulations, a light foil screen will be placed in front of the doors on match day.

Away from the wining and dinning, to the left of the floor there is a business centre with computers, printers and photocopiers available for use.

Guests will be provided with a code to print from their laptops, when in their rooms, which they are later able to collect, free wi-fi will also be available.

Beyond the business centre there are four business rooms for corporate clients to hire for up to 60 people, next door there is another room to hold 30 delegates.

Stepping inside the directors lounge you are treated to the best view in the stadium. Built at perfect level, looking out onto the halfway line the directors have a direct entrance to their seats following pre-match meals.

A smaller room is adjoined for more guests, and both can also be privately hired as function rooms.

On the same floor, and the top level, are where the 127 rooms can be found, 24 of which will double up as private boxes during match days.

There is a large double bed, with a mattress named 'sweet dreams' with single wooden draws either side.

The rooms are all air-conditioned, and there is a large screen TV, desk in front of a large mirror, and the alarm clock includes a dock station for i-pods.

On match days the bed, a zip and link, can fold away into the cupboard, where the desk and chair will also be placed.

In the bathroom the sink is a large stand alone bowl, and bath/shower, with a marble effect flooring.

The suits are twice the size, with a larger bathroom, and another separate toilet, the room is divided into a lounge area and bedroom.

Although this is a large project which still has workmen hammering away, Doubletree are confident that they will open in early September, and every room will be available.

Guests who stay can also enjoy the gym facilities, including the pool, in the lower levels of the stadium.

It's a good time to move!

Shh.. top secret kit on show at codecrackers

A four rotor Enigma at Bletchley Park

TO celebrate the 70th anniversary of the arrival of the codebreakers, Bletchley Park has launched a major exhibition.

On September 4, 1939, the day after the declaration of war by PM Chamberlain, codebreakers, including Alan Turing and Gordon Welchman, reported for top-secret duties at Bletchley Park and so began a most remarkable period in codebreaking history; the breaking of German Enigma.

Bletchley Park is home to an impressive permanent collection of Enigma and other vintage cypher machines and equipment but to mark this special anniversary weekend, the exhibits will multiply when over 70 more, previously top-secret, machines from all around the world will be on display.

The arrival of these extraordinary encoding machines will coincide on the Sunday with Bletchley Park's Annual Enigma Reunion event, uniting them with many of the men and women who cracked their codes.

The machines will be arriving from museums and private and government collections all around the world, including the UK's GCHQ, the USA's National Cryptologic Museum and military museums in Scandinavia and Europe. Some of the machines have never before been publicly shown in the UK and are still under wraps until this event opens.

Simon Greenish, director of the Bletchley Park Trust said, "We are extremely privileged to be hosting this event with the support of GCHQ. It promises to be a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to see such a large number of the world's rare cypher machines in one place. That we will also be in the presence of so many of Bletchley Park's exceptional wartime veterans will make it a phenomenal occasion."

Other highlights of the event will be special talks by VIP guest speakers, a Battle of Britain Memorial Flight fly-past by a Lancaster bomber on the Saturday, a Second World War RAF plotting table, war re-enactors and the opportunity for children to have a go at making and breaking codes in Spy Workshops.

Holiday kids take on a media camp challenge

TWENTY young people from across Milton Keynes had a creative start to their summer holidays when they took part in a week long Media Camp.

The camp was run by Milton Keynes Council's Extended Services Team in partnership with trainers Radiowaves and the education charity, University of the First Age (UFA). It was all part of MK Summer Challenge which saw young people across the city take part in a range of activities in sport, environment, arts and the media.

The course, which was held at the Playing for Success Centre at the stadiummk, saw them interview key local people including MK Dons' chairman Pete Winkelman, Heart Radio DJ Wes Venn and local media personalities.

They also used the skills they learnt on the course to capture the other summer challenge activities taking place around the city such as water sports at Caldecotte Lake; sports at Oakgrove Leisure Centre; gardening at Emerson Valley School; creating a beach party at All Sorts at Christ the Sower School; dance sessions in West Bletchley; and creative recycling at the Ziggy Club at Oxley Park Primary School.

With help from Radiowaves trainers, the young people were Britain in Bloom judges visited Milton Keynes to examine the city's bid to win Best Large City in the nationwide Britain in Bloom competition.

This year the judges visited the Open University, Caldecotte Business Centre, Woughton on the Green, Willen lake, Newport Pagnell, the Hanson Environmental Study Centre, Meads Close Community Garden, New Bradwell and Linford Wood.

The tour finished at Campbell Park where the judges were joined by the Mayor of Milton Keynes, Cllr Euan Henderson, members of Milton Keynes Council, The Parks Trust and The Open University.

Alongside flower displays, the city's parks and landscaped areas will be judged on their horticultural achievement, community involvement, cleanliness and environmental sustainability.

David Foster, chief executive of The Parks Trust, said "Our 22million trees make us one of the greenest cities in England and we're incredibly proud of the way we maintain and manage our beautiful parks. The Britain in Bloom competition enables us to display these gems in the city's crown and tell the rest of the country what a wonderful place Milton Keynes is, both to live in and to visit."

EVITA

A Dark Orbit
No Consequence
Boanthrope

Friday, August 7
This Basick records summer showcase gives one of the most exciting and well respected independent British records labels a chance to introduce the new generation of Basick bands. Combining the melodic and hardcore with straight out grit and edge Evita are set to make an indelible mark on the international metal scene with the release of their debut album 'Minutes and Miles'.

A fresh and original offering from one of the UK's most exciting metal bands, drawing on a wide range of influences, Evita offer positive songs packed with soaring, addictive pop hooks, passionate vocals, creative musical technicality and ambient soundscapes.

From USA, A Dark Orbit bring a ruthless and progressive sound only a few can tame. Formed in 2008.

After just a few shows they were instantly recognized as a breath of fresh air on the hardcore-metal circuit.

The brutal and catchy, No Consequence, are technically impressive without geek exclusivity and their genre crossing talent produces music that is as challenging to pigeonhole as it is to safely absorb.

Tickets £6. Doors 7.30pm.

On a mission...

IT'S almost a mission impossible.

It can take two hours simply to cross from one end of Istanbul to the other.

At times it appears all 13 million inhabitants are thronging the streets, and the city's 3,000 yellow taxis are helping bring gridlock to the roads.

We've only got 48 hours to get where the action is. The pace has to be frantic, but then it matches one of the most lively and vibrant places in the world.

Time is of the essence, so it's as well easy-jet, who fly between Luton and Sahiba Gokcen airport, get us in 25 minutes early.

You need to flash a tenner for a visa but then we are off, and the BMW is ready to whisk us to the centre...or not.

As you home in on the metropolis there's a sense of madness as you join the biggest traffic jam in the world.

It takes us an hour before we sweep into the magnificent five-star Ritz-Carlton hotel. Luxury or what? How do you persuade the other half to hit the ground running when you are led to a magnificent room for a king (and queen). It's sheer opulence, the smell of fresh flowers pervades, the wine is cooling in the ice bucket and from the huge windows 12 floors high you can contemplate the Bosphorous and shipping lanes that seem almost as busy as the roads.

But we are off, our yellow cab driver knows a quick way to Ortakoy one of the city's hot-spots full of riverside cafes and market stalls.

We haven't time to make 14 mile boat trip up the straits to the Black Sea. So we go for the hour long cruise. I once crossed the atlantic and back in two minutes, across the Bridge over the Atlantic at Seil Island in Scotland.

My next trick is to switch between two continents in about 10 minutes. We leave from almost beneath the Ataturk suspension bridge and head across the Straits and the nominal line that divides Europe with Asia Minor. The tourists love it, and so do we.

Then it's more mayhem, this time our taxi driver is stuck in third gear at 50mph through extraordinary volumes of vehicles. Hilariously, despite showing him where we want to go and our hotel is one of the biggest landmarks in the city, visible from almost anywhere - he can't find it. Finally, after a unscheduled sight-seeing tour we offer him 10 lira and suggest he buys himself a map.

Then it's off on foot to Taksim Square, the hub of the city, it's festival time and the atmosphere is as electric. We sample typical Turkish cuisine and engage in a spot of people watching. So much to do and see.

The next day we take a deep breath and our guide, Umut, is a whirlwind as we had for the key tourist spots. There's bucket loads, but we quickly agree to give the 60-odd street, 4,000 shop Grand Bazaar a miss and head instead to the Aresto bazaar where traders are not allowed to hassle you.

We watch the muslims at prayer in the magnificent Blue Mosque, constantly hear the calling to worship wherever you go. Then we blaze a compulsive tourists' trail... the Hagia Sophia, the Obelisk, the Topkapi Palace and the Cistern, an underground reservoir which was a backdrop for Bond's from Russia with Love. Then there's the Dolmabahce Palace, the list is endless, the pace breathless.

Later we head for Taksim again, via a Chinese restaurant offering the finest of finest Chinese food. The vibes are good in the bars and one of the barman becomes our best pal when he learns I hail from the home of his beloved football team & Liverpool. Sorry, old mate blue is my colour.

Then it's almost all over. Sunday morning is, well, Sunday morning even in Istanbul. Just a few yellow cabs punctuate the otherwise clear roads and our driver knocks 45 minutes off our inward trip on the way back to the airport. We didn't think it would be possible to see so much in 48 hours. We expected it would be a difficult mission, but in the end far from impossible.

CHRIS GILL

Chris Gill stayed at the Carlton Ritz Hotel, and flew return journey to Istanbul with easyjet from Luton.

SIMON DARNELL

ONE MORE CHANCE

Bloc Party

THE first time I heard this, I'll be honest with you, I initially thought it was a remix.

That was the only logical explanation I could think of for the early 90s piano riff that heralds the start of the song.

Then the guitars kicked in and then the whole battleground got redrawn to the extent that, well, I'm not entirely sure but I think what we've ended up with here is what it would sound like if present day indie rock got into a huge fight with old school house music.

Whistles, glowsticks and proper musical instruments all over the shop.

The beat, the sound effects and the piano (oh yes, especially the piano) that's most definitely house music making its presence felt, but the singing and the guitars - those fellows are undoubtedly playing on indie territory.

It's scarcely conceivable that this is the same band that brought out The Prayer just two years ago and, do you know something, when a band's prepared to experiment with new sounds like this lot have then good luck to them. That's a recommendation, by the way.

OBSESSED

Mariah Carey

AUTO-TUNE is a gift from the gods if you can't sing for toffee. It can even take normal speech, and with a bit of technological jiggery-pokery, hoy bongo! You can have Winston Churchill singing.

See, once upon a time anyone could be in a band, now anyone can be a singer. It's a terrifying prospect.

However, what I really don't understand about Auto-Tune is why someone of Mariah Carey's status would ever want to use it? It's like Jeremy Paxman leaving Newsnight to present Newsround instead, it's beneath her.

Don't get me wrong, when she does her diva thing and tries to hit 25 different notes while singing one syllable and I want to switch off the stereo, rip the speakers out and drop-kick the damned things out of the living room window, but that's just my way of protecting my ears and (debatably) my sanity.

Thing is, she CAN sing and sing well, so she doesn't need Auto-Tune.

However, the tune just about compensates because, oddly enough, it's actually not bad.

It's a tale of a celebrity stalker being ridiculed with a handful of insults thrown in for good measure, set against a tune that never quite gets going, but then never quite needs to. Very strange, but it works so there you go.

Get your brand closer to people's lives

No other medium is as close to people's hearts as Regional Press. Consumers consider it an integral part of their community. The effectiveness of regional press advertising in driving sales comes down to the simple fact that people prefer to do most of their spending close to where they live.

Consumers' Choice V, a national consumer survey by TNS Media, found that regional press advertising is the most frequently acted upon, with 61% of people responding to it.

No wonder brands enjoy a closer relationship with consumers when advertised in this, the most trusted and effective medium of all.

- close the A5 in 4 phases, only closing one carriageway at any one time, in sections between its junctions with the A509 Portway Roundabout and the A422 Monks Way Roundabout and the A422 Monks Way Roundabout and the A508 Old Stratford Roundabout;

Our customers come from all over the country because of our good name and personal service. Our workshop is not housed behind a flashy reception area where you hand your keys over and your car disappears not to be seen again until you pay your bill. We run an open workshop where the customer is shown what's wrong with their car and you can discuss the solutions with the engineer.

Servicing to above main dealer standards. Audi trained technicians.

Crawley creep up

THE weather got the better of the cricket fixtures with only a handful of matches taking place over the weekend.

Morrants Four Counties League Division One

IN the only match that went ahead in the division the points were shared.

North Crawley moved to within six points of fourth placed Cublington following their draw with Elstow.

Crawley went in to bat first and were put in a comfortable position thanks to Richard Bryce's unbeaten 40, while Matt Goss (37), Glenn Young (33) and Mick Howe (31no) all helped with the bat.

It meant Crawley set a target of 187-4.

Elstow were always struggling to match the total with only Rani Thirra top scoring with 31 as the team finished on 111-9.

Crawley took 19 points, while Elstow claimed four.

Division Three

TOP-OF-THE-TABLE Cranfield University suffered a surprise defeat at home to Drayton Parslow.

It was only their second loss of the season.

Drayton Parslow reached 152 with Shane Rolls recording 52 for the visitors.

Cranfield's Rajeev Verma finished with 6-28, while the remaining wickets fell to Gautam Pulugundla who claimed 4-19.

But it was the bowling of Mark Greaves (5-17) that earned Drayton the victory as Cranfield were dismissed ten runs short of the target.

Division Six

ASTON Clinton lost to Totternhoe by four wickets.

A dreadful day with the bat saw Aston reach just 43 before they were all out.

Totternhoe wobbled as they reached the total, losing six wickets on the way.

Winslow Town beat Cublington by 116 runs.

A knock of 89 from Pete Hornby helped Winslow to 235-6 before they dismissed Cublington for 119.

Cherwell League Division One

BLETCHLEY Town had their game against second placed Cumnor abandoned midway through due to the rain.

The side remain in sixth place.

Northants Premier League

STONY Stratford also had their game with Old Northamptonians abandoned.

Stony had bowled out their opponents for 151 but the game was cancelled before they could go in to bat. They stay eighth in the table.

Daniel Powell has a late shot blocked

Johnson hat-trick sees off the Saints

BY SIMONE CORGAN

simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

JEMAL Johnson produced a timely reminder of the quality he possesses by scoring a hat-trick in the 3-1 pre-season win over Northampton Town.

In their final friendly Johnson turned on the style to bag a thunderbolt treble against the local rivals.

And the bad news for League One teams preparing to face him this season is he's spent two months firing at goal.

He told MK NEWS: "I've been working a lot on my shooting this summer, in my own time. I haven't been anywhere on holiday this summer so hopefully I should get a lot of goals this season."

His goals against Cobblers came on the eighth, 34th and 86th minute and all were struck from outside the box thanks to Northampton's inability to close down danger.

Johnson, who was released by the Dons in the summer but continued negotiations and re-signed when Paul Ince returned, is hoping his red-hot streak is not just a one-off.

He added: "Obviously I want to continue it but it's not always like that. I'm going to make sure I keep my head down, work hard this week through training, if I get the same result as I did last week that would be good. But either way I just want to get a performance."

Cobblers struggled to keep tabs on Johnson, and paid the price early on but managed to get back on level terms when Billy McKay pounced on a parried effort.

However, Cobblers failed to learn from their early mistakes and Johnson added two more to his tally.

Assistant boss Karl Robinson praised the efforts of the winger, but reiterated the player needs to recreate the performance throughout the season.

Robinson said: "It's great to see any player with a smile on his face and I think we all know that if JJ's smiling and he's happy, he's a very talented footballer.

"The standards we put on players means it's not good doing it as a one-off, you have to consistently perform. It's our job to make that happen and, if it doesn't, we'll be on his back."

"If he keeps doing that, we're got a really good player on our hands."

COMING UP

HARTLEPOOL UNITED

League One
Saturday, August 8
stadiummk KO 3pm

BOTH sides came painfully close to being in a different league this season.

Pool flirted with relegation a little longer than their fans would have cared for, while the Dons suffered play-off heartache.

The Dons' new look outfit go in to the season on the back of two successive pre-season wins.

Dons will be without Sean O'Hanlon, Jude Stirling, Peter Leven and Aaron Wilbraham.

Pool's centre-back Ben Clark is out following a hernia operation, and captain Ritchie Humphreys will also miss the game with an Achilles problem.

SWINDON TOWN

Carling Cup
Tuesday, August 11
stadiummk KO 7.45pm

JUST as the league begins, so too does the Football League Cup.

Dons have drawn League One rivals Swindon Town in the first round.

Former Dons manager Danny Wilson is now in charge at Swindon, Dons fans will be hoping he doesn't have a happy return to Milton Keynes.

In the event of the scores being level at the 90 minutes an extra-half hour will be played. If the tie is still undecided after extra time, the match will go to penalties.

Sprint star Pickering to captain country in Falkirk Cup

ATHLETICS

CRAIG Pickering will captain England against Scotland, Ethiopia, Ireland and a Bank of Scotland Development team in the Falkirk Cup later this month.

The Milton Keynes runner has never been beaten in Scotland, and he will hope that trend continues when the team head to Grangemouth on August 30 for the competition.

23-year-old Pickering said: "Nobody on the team will want to lose - this will be a massive indicator ahead of the Commonwealth Games so it will be important to everyone on the team to show what they can do.

"It will be important to everyone on the team to show what they can do."

It will be a tough ask to beat the hosts, captained by 800m runner Claire Gibson, as they hunt down their fourth successive victory at the Falkirk Cup.

On Friday Pickering ran a season best time at the International Meeting in Leverkusen. The sprinter came in second in the 100 metres in a time of 10.22secs, just behind winner Mario Forsythe who ran 10.16secs.

Punch back on loan

JASON Puncheon will return for a fourth spell at MK Dons when he signs a one-year loan deal with the club later this week.

The midfielder enjoyed two successful loan periods at stadiummk last season, and has agreed to make the switch from Plymouth Argyle for another season.

As part of the agreement Plymouth will not be able to recall Puncheon at any stage in the season.

Speaking at the Dons' open training session at stadiummk on Monday, Ince told MK NEWS the deal was not pre-arranged, and it was his decision to bring Puncheon back.

Ince said: "Jason Puncheon wanted to come back. I wanted to see what I had here before I did that, and behind the scenes in the last three or four days me and the chairman have been working to bring him back."

"I had a good positive chat with Paul Sturrock at Plymouth, there were other clubs in for Puncheon and he wanted to come to play for Milton Keynes."

"That just shows the quality of the lad, if I can get him playing he's a terrific player, he's got bundles of ability and he's the type of player that we're going to need at this club if we want to move forward."

The 23-year-old came through the ranks at Wimbledon and continued playing for MK Dons until he was released in January 2006.

He then went on to spend two years at Barnet before Plymouth snapped him up for £250,000 last summer, but he struggled to hold down a first team spot.

Then-Dons boss Roberto Di Matteo signed him up on a month-long loan in October, which was extended to Christmas, before bringing him back to stadiummk in January until the end of the season.

During the two loan spells Puncheon made 29 appearances and scored four goals.

Lewie's out to score in the opener

DEAN Lewington reckons he can get his goal tally started in MK Dons' first game of the season.

The full-back jokingly suggested he would be able to bag himself an opening day goal on Saturday, despite only scoring twice last season.

But you would not put it past him as both those goals came against this weekend's opposition, Hartlepool United.

With a smile on his face, Lewington said: "I'll be looking to open my account on the opening day of the season."

"It will be nice if that run could continue, I'm looking to score a few more goals this year and contribute in that way."

The 25-year-old had been linked to a move in the Premier League this summer, but he is looking forward to a season of attacking football at the Dons.

He added: "The game we're trying to play is the passing game, so you need the full-backs to overlap, and overload in certain areas."

"Hopefully we can play good attacking football, I'd imagine every member of the team will be a bit more attacking than the previous year."

It is the back line that has needed plenty of attention in pre-season with Jude Stirling out for a number of weeks, Sean O'Hanlon missing until the new year, and Danny Swales still some way off match fitness.

It has meant a number of trialist squeezing in at centre-back during pre-season matches, and Lewington has also been pushed into the centre on one occasion.

Lewington says the number of new signing that have joined the squad in recent weeks have fitted in well to life in Milton Keynes.

"We've got quite a small squad so the boys have come in and really fitted in well," he added, "they've been playing well which helps. If you're a new player and you do well to start off with it eases you in a little bit more."

Five on Dons' sick list

BY SIMONE CORGAN

simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

MK Dons will start their season without five key players, but Paul Ince has warned that his side will only get stronger.

Aaron Wilbraham, Peter Leven, Jude Stirling, Danny Swales and Sean O'Hanlon will all be missing from the Dons' League One curtain raiser against Hartlepool United on Saturday.

To compensate for the likes of Stirling (groin), Swales (Achilles) and O'Hanlon (knee) Ince has spent pre-season watching trialists and is set to recruit Darren Powell and Sol Davies in the coming days.

Both Powell, the former Brentford and Crystal Palace defender, and ex-Luton player Davis have impressed Ince over recent weeks.

Ince said: "Powelly's a natural defender, he just wants to defend, there's no heirs and graces about him which is what you want. Powelly's been ever so positive, he's come in and I've been really pleased with him, hopefully I can sit down and do something with Powelly and Sol Davis. With Jude being out we know we've got to do something just to cover Lewie in case he gets injured."

Last season's top scorer Wilbraham (ankle) underwent an operation in the summer, and is now able to run again, while Leven (groin) could be back in one month's time.

Ince still has options though, with summer signings Jermaine Easter, Jason Puncheon, Stephen Gleeson, Jemal Johnson and Mark Carrington, Lewis Gubern, Dan Woodards, Richie Partridge and David McCracken all fit and raring to go.

Ince, taking charge of his first competitive game at stadiummk since lifting the title with the Dons in May, 2008, thinks the return of his injured players later down the line will have the impact of new signings.

He said: "You'll probably see a stronger squad in about three or four weeks time."

"We're in that predicament where if you start bringing players in and then the injured players come back in five weeks time you've got 28 players."

The Dons manager is in a confident mood as his team prepares to take on Pools in three days time, he added: "We go into the season feeling confident and we'll get better the more the season goes on, the stronger we'll get."
